

Bloomington Holds Free Dinner for Community

From The Record Herald, Washington Court House

The Bloomington United Methodist Church and the Presbyterian Church and the Village of Bloomington (Fayette County) held its first annual free soup and chili winter dinner on February 26th at the Bloomington Town Hall. Homemade soup, chili, sandwiches, cookies and refreshments were served.

The groups involved recognized a need for the community to get together, for not only fellowship and a meal, but to help village families who are hurting because of high winter heating costs. They hope to make this an annual event for the village, and grow with the help of other area businesses and organizations to show appreciation for the local people from Bloomington who support village business. The goal was for the entire village to come together to support each other in this time of hardship faced by everyone.

Note: Bloomington UMC is served by Supply Pastor, Phillip Webb